

RIOTS AT HOMESTEAD

Matters Growing More Serious Every Day.

DEPUTY SHERIFFS POWERLESS.

The Governor of the State Will Likely Be Called on to Send State Troops to the Scene of Disturbance—The Iams Case in Court.

HOMESTEAD, Pa., Oct. 28.—Matters are growing more serious here every day. Assaults upon assaults are being committed, but thus far no person upon whom rests the blame has been apprehended. The advisory board disclaim any part in the trouble and express themselves as anxious to have the matter cleared up, and when it is they say a startling truth will be brought to light.

John Horner and George W. Fyock, non-union workmen, who were carrying a keg of beer, were set upon by twenty men and boys. Horner received a pistol ball in his left shoulder. He and Fyock then returned the fire of their assailants and about twenty shots were exchanged. A boy named Clark was shot in the leg. A force of deputy sheriffs appeared and dispersed the crowd, making three arrests.

Two more acts of violence were reported here yesterday evening. A non-union boarding house on Ninth avenue was stoned and the driver of a grocery wagon was compelled to drive for his life to escape an infuriated crowd because his employer sells his goods to the families of non-union workmen.

The sheriff's deputies now on duty here number fifty men, and more deputies are expected tomorrow. The non-union men in the mills are greatly agitated over the violent occurrences of the past few days, and as a consequence very little work is being done.

A well attended meeting of representative citizens of Homestead was held yesterday evening for the purpose of voicing the sentiments of the law-abiding citizens. Many speeches condemnatory of the recent acts of violence were made, and resolutions passed calling upon all good citizens to give the sheriff all possible aid toward suppressing disorder; also resolutions calling upon the sheriff to bring all his powers to bear in suppressing disorder, failing in which he shall call upon the governor of the state to send a sufficient military force to Homestead to preserve the peace.

PRIVATE IAMS' CASE.

A Court Trying Those That Persecuted Him.

PITTSBURG, Oct. 28.—The case against Colonel Alexander Hawkins, Lieutenant Colonel J. B. R. Streater and Assistant Surgeon W. S. Grim, of the Tenth regiment, for tying Private W. L. Iams up by the thumbs at Homestead, was called for trial before Judge Porter yesterday. It will be remembered that Iams proposed three cheers for Anarchist Bergman, who attempted to assassinate H. C. Frick.

The court room was crowded, the majority of those present being national guardsmen. Private Iams was the target for all eyes. He sat behind his counsel and did not appear to notice the crowd.

At the opening of the case, the defense moved to quash the indictment, on the ground that the civil courts had no jurisdiction, the alleged offense having been committed when the guard was on active duty, and if the private prosecutor had any grievance he had a tribunal to appeal to, which was created by the national guard act of 1887 establishing court martial.

Exhaustive arguments were made on this question by both sides. The defense claimed the guard was on duty suppressing an insurrection, and in the punishment of mutiny, which they held Iams' offense to be, the officers of the Tenth regiment were justified in acting as they did. If the punishment was irregular or too severe, then, it was maintained, a court martial and not a civil court would have been the proper tribunal to appeal to. The prosecution held that military regulations gave the officers no right to inflict punishment without a court martial so ordered it.

Attorney Watson attacked the legal existence of the national guard, stating that the act creating it was unconstitutional because it puts the guard under control of the officers instead of under the governor of the state. The act he branded as a weak, vicious and revolutionary law, and the men who framed it, if they knew what they were doing, were guilty of treason. He said that if the court held it had no jurisdiction in the case, it would be establishing a precedent not heretofore established by any court in the civilized world.

The defense in reply said a court martial was the proper tribunal, and the question narrowed down to this: "Could the court martial inflict a punishment similar to that a civil court is empowered to do in such case?"

Judge Porter said that the impression of the court is that a court martial convened now in time of peace could only inflict military punishment. It would not have the power to punish as would civil courts.

Attorney Watson raised the question of the legal right of the national guard to be at Homestead. To aid civil authorities in maintaining the peace the governor has the power to call upon the national guard to resist an invasion, suppress a riot or insurrection, but is not given the power expressly to call them out to aid the civil authorities in maintaining the peace, for which purpose they were ordered to Homestead. Instead of sending the national guard, Mr. Watson said, the governor should have sent the militia.

Another point the prosecution will attempt to show is that Private Iams was not legally enlisted. He entered the guard before he was eighteen years of age, without the consent of his parents, as is required by law.

Judge Porter instructed the attorneys to have their pleadings ready today when the court will pass upon the question of jurisdiction.

Exciting Times Expected.

PITTSBURG, Oct. 28.—The recent acts of lawlessness at Homestead have been called to the attention of the court and the indications are that there will be a number of arrests. Dr. Jones, formerly president of the miners' union, and more recently a member of the legislature, will be the first one called to account.

Sheriff McCleary appeared in the criminal court yesterday and asked for a rule on him, which was granted. The ground for the rule is the speech which he delivered at a hearing in the Halloran case before Squire Coffner Monday evening. He denounced the action of the deputy sheriff and advised the crowd of strikers present at the time that the deputies had no authority to make arrests unless they had warrants. He also told them that they had a perfect right to resist, and they would be justified in killing if necessary.

After the petition was presented Sheriff McCleary, accompanied by several deputies, left for Homestead to execute the order of the court. There are indications of exciting times in the big boro today.

ARMY REPORT.

One Million Dollars Necessary to Support the National Guard.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 28.—General R. Williams, adjutant general of the army, in his annual report says that the reports of officers attending the militia encampment are of a most gratifying kind, and show the utmost anxiety on the part of the large majority of the organizations of the national guard to become proficient soldiers.

The strength of the national guard today is 111,718. It is in many cases not so well equipped as could be desired, although its equipments are as good as the amount allowed to the states by the United States government justifies.

It is believed that the annual appropriation, $400,000, is not sufficient even to fully equip the national guard at its present strength, nor does it seem to me that the strength of the national guard is anywhere near so great as the necessity of the United States in case of war would require.

He recommends that the appropriations be increased to $1,000,000.

TOOK ILLEGAL SALARIES.

Startling Statement About the National Building and Loan Association.

INDIANAPOLIS, Oct. 28.—A suit is about to be instituted by the shareholders of the National Building and Loan association against the directors for alleged taking of salaries illegally. The plaintiffs are Harry Stout, T. W. Morehead and others. At a stockholders' meeting, held last month, the plaintiffs aver, it was discovered that the directors, in violation of the statutes and by-laws, had, for a period of two years, without the knowledge of the stockholders, been drawing salaries, the total amounting to $10,170.

Upon demand made this money was refunded to the association, and it was agreed that the action of the board should be rescinded in all things, and a resolution to that effect was passed by the board. Afterward, without knowledge to the stockholders, the same directors, according to the complaint, voted and paid to themselves sums exceeding $10,000 as past salaries in their capacity as officers.

EARTHQUAKE FESTIVITIES.

The Assault on Fort Sumter Soon to Be Repeated.

CHARLESTON, Oct. 28.—It is learned here that three warships, in addition to the Vesuvius and Dolphin, have been ordered to Charleston to take part in the earthquake festivities. They are the Concord, the Chicago and the Kearsarge, which have been ordered from La Guayra. The feature of the celebration will be a reduplication of the entering of the harbor and the assault on Fort Sumter in 1861.

Besides the warships every steamboat and tug in the harbor will take part in the assault, together with a regiment of artillery to man the land batteries. The fort is being constructed in the inner bay within sight of the historic fort and the city. More than 20,000 visitors are expected in the city.

Premier Abbott to Resign.

OTTAWA, Oct. 28.—It is understood that the government has been advised from England that Premier Abbott will soon forward his resignation to Lord Stanley. In consequence over twenty Conservative members of parliament were summoned to this city to confer with the government as to his successor. There is little doubt that Sir John Thompson will get the appointment.

Great Salt Strike at East Akron, O.

CLEVELAND, Oct. 28.—A 180-foot vein of salt has been struck at East Akron at a depth of 2,800 feet. The deposit is pronounced the finest grade ever discovered in the state, and Seiberling and other Akron capitalists have already begun operations for working it on an extensive scale.

Fight Among School Boys.

NEWARK, O., Oct. 28.—A vicious fight took place yesterday between the boys of the public and of the parochial schools over old troubles revived, and a boy named Bolton was stabbed with a pocket-knife and seriously, though not fatally, injured.

The Chicago and the Kearsarge.

LAGUAYRA, Venezuela, Oct. 28.—The Chicago, Admiral Walker's ship, sailed Wednesday for St. Thomas for coal. Whether she will return or not is not known. The Kearsarge is still here, but may soon leave for Ciudad, Bolivia.

ON THE SAD JOURNEY

Mrs. Harrison's Remains Being Borne to Indianapolis.

THE SERVICES IN WASHINGTON.

They Were Very Brief, Simple, Solemn and Touching—The Beginning of the Journey to the Old Home—Arrangements for the Burial at Indianapolis.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 28.—Funeral exercises over the remains of Mrs. Harrison, previous to their removal to Indianapolis for interment, were held in the White House as previously arranged. They were brief and simple, in accordance with the wishes of the president and family, often expressed, that there be no attempt at display.

The casket reposed in the center of the room, with the head to the south. Around the casket the mourners were arranged in the form of an ellipse at the head of the casket. In the front row were the president and members of Mrs. Harrison's family. Directly back of them in another row were the members of the families of the cabinet, and back of these the employees of the executive mansion and the servants of the Harrison family.

At the foot of the casket in the first row were the members of the cabinet, who were honorary pallbearers, back of these to the right were the members of the United States supreme court. The surplined choir from St. John's Episcopal church was concealed in an alcove. At the head and foot of the casket were two immense palms. Under the palm at the head of the casket was a handsome floral offering of white roses and chrysanthemums.

Over the face of the casket reposed the wreath offered by the president. It was of white roses, and on the heavy part of the wreath was a collection of orchids, Mrs. Harrison's favorite flowers. At one corner of the foot of the casket was an immense crown, at least four feet high of white roses and white carnations which rested on a cushion of violets. At another corner at the foot of the casket was a cross, some four feet high, of ivy sprinkled with white chrysanthemums. It was the offering of Vice President and Mrs. Morton.

There was also a wreath of white roses from Queen Victoria. The crown mentioned before was sent on from the New York association of the Daughters of the Revolution, of which organization Mrs. Harrison was president and an active member. Aside from these handsome floral tributes there were others from almost every state in the Union. The casket was literally banked with flowers.

Rev. Dr. Hamlin read the Scripture selection, and closed with a short invocation.

Rev. Dr. Bartlett, of New York, read the lesson.

St. John's Protestant Episcopal church choir boys sang, "I Heard the Voice of Jesus Say."

Rev. Dr. Hamlin closed with prayer. It was just 10:40 o'clock when the services concluded. They had lasted barely forty minutes. The honorary pallbearers, preceding the casket, formed a passageway on the main portico of the mansion, and stood with uncovered heads while the eight body-bearers bore it to the hearse.

The funeral procession then proceeded to the Pennsylvania station. There was nothing in the procession to indicate the high position of the deceased. Everything about the cortege was as simple and unostentatious as possible.

The string of carriages extended for two blocks beyond the hearse.

Nearly all the government departments were closed from 10 o'clock until noon, and the employees swarmed out on the streets and watched the funeral procession pass.

The funeral cortege arrived at the Pennsylvania railroad station at 11:05 a. m., where a large but silently decorous crowd awaited them. The president's car was a combined parlor and dining car. The cabinet and other distinguished attendants occupied a car which was divided into six drawing rooms, arranged in suites. The whole train consisted of six vestibuled cars.

The train left Washington at 11:40, one hour exactly after the closing of the services at the White House.

AT INDIANAPOLIS.

Arrangements All Complete and Awaiting the Remains.

INDIANAPOLIS, Oct. 28.—Arrangements for the funeral of Mrs. Harrison are all completed. A dispatch was received from Secretary Halford yesterday saying that the president desired that the order for a detail of ten men from the United States arsenal to officiate as active pallbearers should be countermanded and the request was at once complied with. This is taken as indicating that Mr. Harrison is extremely desirous that the procession and services be devoid of display. Grand Army men desiring to testify their sympathy with the chief executive will pass from the depot to the church. It is expected 6,000 veterans will turn out.

The services, in accordance with the president's desire, will be very simple. Immediately upon the arrival of the train the casket will be borne by the pallbearers to the hearse in waiting, and after the funeral party has been conducted to the carriages, the cortege will move to the church. When all have been seated Cardinal Newman's hymn, "Lead, Kindly Light," will be rendered by the choir and Rev. Dr. Haines, Mrs. Harrison's pastor during the latter years of her residence in this city, will deliver a short invocation. A selection of Scripture will be read, and the pastor will make a brief address. The mourners will be led in prayer by Rev. Dr. Hyde, of the Congregational church, and after the rendition of the hymn commencing, "One Sweetly Solemn Thought," Dr. Haines will pronounce the benediction.

At the grave a short passage of Scripture will be read and a prayer will be offered as the casket is lowered into the vault. This service will occupy but a few moments.

There were many visitors to Crown Hill cemetery all day yesterday, and an ever-changing crowd surrounded the grave diggers as they prepared the earth for the reception of the remains. When the grave had been dug to the requisite depth four slabs of dressed stone were lowered and the seams cemented. Loving hands then lined the sides of the vault and its approaches with beautiful flowers.

There will be an almost complete cessation of business during the day.

THE FARIBAUT QUESTION.

An Unknown Pamphleteer Greatly Interests the Vatican.

NEW YORK, Oct. 28.—"The School Question in the United States and the Decision of the Propaganda" is the title of an anonymous pamphlet published in Rome on Archbishop Ireland and the Catholic schools in Fairbault and Stillwater. This contribution to the controversy has greatly interested Rome. But little of it is known here, as only a few copies have been received and the work is in Italian. It is manifest that the author has lived in America and is familiar with American affairs. But he writes Italian like a native and is as familiar with canon laws as a churchman. It is hinted that he is Monsignor Concilio, the well known pastor of St. Michael's, Jersey City.

The author concludes his review of the school question in America, from the council at Baltimore to the present, with an account of Archbishop Ireland's effort to establish schools on a political basis in Fairbault and Stillwater. He charges the archbishop with a want of veracity on some points. He says:

"Archbishop Ireland says with much humility that he has always allowed faithfully the decree of the third council of Baltimore, and that his diocese is much in advance of most others in supporting the parochial schools system."

"In another place he affirms that according to the official acts of the Catholic directory in the diocese of New York the parochial schools are attended by only one Catholic child out of twenty, whereas, in the diocese of St. Paul—his own diocese—the attendance is one out of fourteen. His grace is requested to reconsider his facts and to add to his calculation the children that attend the parochial schools in the diocese of New York, the 20,000 Catholic children that the diocese maintains and educates in orphan asylums and other institutions."

"The great American prelate affirms as an absolute certainty that the people of Fairbault and Stillwater are too poor to maintain a parochial school. What proof does he present? He calls those two parishes the largest of Fairbault and Stillwater, having a population of 2,000 each, and in America a parish of 2,000 Catholics, especially in a place where living is not dear, is rather a desirable one. It seems that the poverty affirmed by Archbishop Ireland rather than a fact is a mere pretext, because in Fairbault and Stillwater there are other parishes that do maintain Catholic schools and those parishes are inferior to the parishes of Carmel and St. Michael."

"Archbishop Ireland maintains that tolerari potest means canonically full approbation. But it is affirmed that this expression is neither approbation nor permission, but only a passive act of authority, which authority, for prudential reasons, suffers a particular thing to exist. We can find no reason which the congregation of the propaganda should have used the term tolerari potest if it meant to signify licet—it is lawful. There exists many and great reasons on account of which the sacred congregation would seem to have been bound to give the most favorable answer possible."

"In the first place there was yet no pronounced legal opposition in Archbishop Ireland's case. Secondly, he used in Rome all his influence in order to obtain a decision not merely tolerative, but the most favorable possible. He was and is represented as the great archbishop of the United States. He represented, in case of an unfavorable decision, the possibility, the likelihood of a Kulturkampf by which the state would exclude the Catholic hierarchy from taking part in education."

"Besides he was most ably defended and protected by Cardinal Gibbons, who, in his letter directed to the holy father on the 1st of March, besought his holiness to give Archbishop Ireland a solemn proof of his complete satisfaction on account of his zeal and wise management of the archbishopric of the west. Notwithstanding this, the expression tolerari potest was used."

BRAKES FAILED.

An Elevated Railway Train Wrecked and Two Women Injured.

NEW YORK, Oct. 28.—The failure of the brakes to work sent a train on the Third avenue elevated railroad crashing into the bumpers at the end of the line at the city hall station at 11 o'clock last night. The train, going at almost regulation speed, struck the beams heavily, forcing the engine upon the car behind it, wrecking the platform and throwing the passengers in all directions.

Two women were severely injured. They are Mrs. William Wallace, of Brooklyn, injured about the spine, and Miss May Long, also of Brooklyn, who was injured internally. There was quite a panic among the passengers when the crash came, and a mad rush was made for the station platform. All escaped safely, except a few who were bruised by falls or broken glass.

New Canadian Cattle Has It.

LONDON, Oct. 28.—Pleuro-pneumonia has been discovered in Canadian cattle landed at Dundee from the steamers Hurona and Monkseaton.

BIG CONFLAGRATIONS

Several Places Visited by Destructive Fires.

LIVES LOST IN SOME OF THEM.

Half a Million Dollars' Worth of Property Destroyed in Jersey City—Two Girls Perish in a Cleveland Fire—Clarksville, Missouri, Almost Wiped Out and Two Men Killed.

NEW YORK, Oct. 28.—A fire, which speedily developed into a conflagration, broke out about 8 o'clock last night at Essex and Greene streets, Jersey City. The fire started in the Brooklyn Cooperage company's building. The building was four stories high and contained about 50,000 barrels and 2,000,000 staves.

The flames spread with great rapidity owing to the combustible character of the contents of the building, and in a short time extended to Phillip White's liquor store. It was a two-story frame building, and the upper part was occupied by several families. The tenants all got out in safety but were unable to save anything.

From this building the fire extended to a building adjoining. That quickly succumbed. The next house east was a little frame cottage. It was ruins in less than half an hour. All this time the firemen were making a desperate fight, but despite their efforts the fire continued to spread.

The intense heat set fire to a wooden shed connected with M. H. Gautier & Company's Crucible works. The flames spread to the main building and did considerable damage. The fire then made its way to two brick tenements adjoining, in which ten families lived. The brick walls delayed the progress of the fire but only for a short time. The wind carried the flames beyond the brick buildings to Russell's machine shop, which lasted only a short time.

From the machine shop the fire spread to the big cooperage, owned by C. Heidt & Son. The contents of the cooperage, which was well stocked, gave the fire a fresh impetus. Devlin's charcoal shop adjoining the cooperage went next. The fire was now getting down toward the river. It finally reached Colgate & Company's building, which is used for a "fat" house, stable and box factory. The building and all its contents lasted only about half an hour.

With the destruction of this building the firemen succeeded in getting the flames under control, but it will be some time before they are completely extinguished. The total loss is estimated anywhere from $250,000 to $500,000. It is nearly all covered by insurance.

FIRE IN CLEVELAND.

It Is Feared That Two Lives Were Lost in a Burning Rag House.

CLEVELAND, Oct. 28.—A fire, which threatened to destroy a large part of the business property in the vicinity of Water and Johnson streets, broke out at 11 o'clock yesterday morning in the Crocker block, at 63 Water street. It was a four-story brick structure, occupied by Koblit Brothers as a rag warehouse.

About thirty girls were at work on the fourth floor sorting rags when the alarm was given. The flames spread so quickly that the girls had barely time to get out, and it is feared that two of them were burned to death. One of them was known simply as Lizzie, and three others, whose names were unknown even to their companions, are all Russian Jewesses. The loss on stock and building will reach $100,000; insurance about $50,000.

CAUGHT BY A FALLING WALL.

Two People Killed at a Fire in Clarksville, Missouri.

CLARKSVILLE, Oct. 28.—The W. P. Boone & Son tobacco factory, Paul Kerner's dry goods house, S. F. Mayer's grocery house, Byron Stemmons' billiard hall, Mrs. Stemmons' restaurant, and T. S. Crowley's tailoring establishment were totally destroyed by fire yesterday. Loss, $50,000; only partly insured.

During the progress of the fire Mr. Crowley and one of his employees, Joe Schuber, of Norborne, Mo., entered their building and were caught by a falling wall and instantly killed.

Prison Burned and Twelve Lives Lost.

VIENNA, Oct. 28.—The house of correction at Goellersdorf was burned yesterday afternoon. The fire spread with such rapidity that many of the 500 prisoners had to jump for their lives. Twelve are known to have been burned to death and others are missing.

Saw Mill Burned.

MADISON, Ind., Oct. 28.—Ginn & Stanton's saw mill at Carrollton, burned yesterday. Loss, $10,000; uninsured.

Boiler Explosion in Spain.

LONDON, Oct. 28.—A dispatch to the Reuter Telegram company from Seville, Spain, states that a fatal boiler explosion occurred in that city in a mill used for the manufacture of olive oil. Two persons were killed by the explosion and many injured.

Ticket Office Robbed.

MADISON, Ind., Oct. 28.—The ticket office of the Pittsburg, Cincinnati and St. Louis railway, at Rushville, was entered by burglars early yesterday morning, who "blew" the safe and secured $300.

Arrested for Murder.

FRIDAY, OCTOBER 28, 1892.

HON. JASON BROWN,

Of Seymour, Ind.,

Saturday Night, Oct. 29,

At the Court House.

The public invited. Democrats are urged to be present. Seats reserved for ladies.

Voters, Take Notice.

Under the new law, the polls will close at 4 p. m. November 8th. If you fail to put in your ballot before that hour you will LOSE your vote. VOTE EARLY.

THE editor of the Public Ledger imagines the old soldiers are not going to vote for Tom Paynter, but just wait and see.

"ANDY" has struck "a hard row of stumps." He will wish before long that he had never listened to the "tempter's" voice.

THE Democrats of Mason County have got on their "fightin' clothes," and "Andy" ought to know what that means. If he doesn't, let him recall the Alexander-Forman race a few years ago.

MR. GEORGE SCHROEDER is formally announced as a candidate for Councilman in the Sixth ward. He is one of the present members from that ward, and is one of the city's most industrious business men and most trustworthy citizens.

It seems that lots of Republicans did not have sufficient intuition to discover that some men, hitherto prominent in their party, "were utterly without weight or following," until they had announced their intention of leaving the party and voting for Cleveland.

If those young men in Mason who cast their first vote November 8th, drop in a ballot for honest Grover Cleveland, they can ever say proudly, "I cast my first vote for 'the typical American.'" That's a tribute Dewey, the great Republican orator, paid Grover.

WHEAT was quoted in St. Louis at 66½ cents per bushel a few days ago, the lowest price known in years. Wool is also lower than it has been for a long time. In the face of all this, Republican speakers are blowing about the great prosperity of the farmers.

THE Cincinnati Enquirer did not state on Wednesday that "Squire C. W. Williams intends to vote for Cleveland." It's rather singular the Public Ledger can't get things right once in a while. The Enquirer said Mr. Williams had withdrawn from the race for Sheriff and would vote for "the Democratic nominee," meaning, of course, the nominee for Sheriff. Cleveland's name wasn't once mentioned in the Enquirer's dispatch.

THE World's Fair Commissioners can soon have the point settled as to the legality of that appropriation of $100,000. If Governor Brown put himself in a hole when he called in question the appropriation, that's not the Commissioners' lookout. Their duty to the people of Kentucky is far greater than any duty they owe to Governor Brown. It's of vast importance to the people of the State to have this question between the Governor and the Legislature as to the passage of bills settled at once. It can only be done by the Court of Appeals.

"AMERICAN INDUSTRIES," a journal published in New York, has forever ruined Mr. Peck's figures as Republican campaign material. The effort of Mr. Peck to prevent any one from tracing the source of his figures has been overcome in one instance by the reporters of "American Industries." They have located the only firm in earthenware and stoneware Mr. Peck reports on, and prove that this report upon the matter of wages in that instance is false. He figured out that 1,030 employees of the Lalance & Grosjean Manufacturing Company, at Woodhaven, L. I., received increases of wages in 1891 over 1890. The workmen of that firm say there was no change of any character in wages in either 1890 or 1891. "American Industries" says its reporters can find no "large increase" in the wages of clothing workers as Mr. Peck alleged had resulted from the tariff of 1891. J. B. Lennon, General Secretary of the Journeymen Tailors' Union of America, doesn't know of any. He says the average wages paid custom tailors in 1890 was $14 a week. The average in 1891 was $13 a week. Other clothing workers deny the accuracy of Mr. Peck's figures.

In connection with the above it might be added that New York papers that advertised prizes for workmen whose wages had been increased by the McKinley bill still had their stock of prizes on hand at last accounts.

SENATOR HILL ON THE TICKET.

What shall I say for the Democratic candidates, Cleveland and Stevenson? They both are the Jeffersonian standard of fitness; both have been satisfactorily tested in public service, and both represent the clear, cherished principles of our party in this campaign and are entitled to your suffrages. Ex-President Cleveland needs no eulogy at my hands. His life and public service are familiar to the people. His administration—dignified, honest and able—has safely withstood the popular criticism, has passed into history and reflected credit upon the country. His re-election will not only be a public triumph, but it will also be the vindication of our principles and the triumph of the Democratic party.—Senator Hill's Tammany Hall Speech.

A REPUBLICAN SENATOR'S OPINION OF THE FORCE BILL.

"I have read that bill with care and attention more than twenty times. I have read it in the light of calm consideration. And I repeat that if it were presented to me now, with the alternative of party support or party dismissal, I should not vote for the bill. A more infamous bill, in my judgment, never passed the threshold of the doors of the Senate. Avowedly in the interest of good government, it was instigated, in my judgment, by men whose interest it was to prevent a free expression of the will of the voters at the polls."—Senator Teller.

BLAINE'S SPEECH.

How the Catholic Sunday Union of New York Regards It.

One of the Meanest and Most Wanton Insults to Irish Manhood Ever Attempted.

The Catholic Sunday Union of New York says: "Ford had undertaken the contract to deliver the Irish-American Nationalists to tear the State of New York from the grasp of the Democratic Campaign Chairman, Sheehan, and thus give the Presidency to Harrison.

"Thirteen weeks before election the Harrison committee gave Mr. Ford a heavy financial benefit in the shape of an enormous standing order for his paper, through which Ford was to delude or corrupt what they called 'the Cleveland Irish.' Ford found that he could not deliver the goods without aid. Egan was hurried from Chili to aid his brother conspirator.

"The placeman and the subsidized put their heads together and decided to invoke the assumed magic of Blaine's personality.

"The craze of 1884 was to be re-enacted. Blaine, to be sure, was this time not himself the candidate, but so sudden and base was the material estimated that it was suggested by Ford and Egan that Blaine could pass the chattels over to Harrison.

"If there be any men in our ranks in such dire straits for Republican 'soup,' they may heed the logic of Blaine, Egan and Ford; but it is not likely that there are any such among the Irishmen of America.

"And Blaine actually attempts this! He specially lectures 'the Irish' and orders them to go over to Harrison. As you love me, he cries, you must love my enemy. As you were fooled by Ford & Co. in my name, you must now be fooled by the same schemers for Harrison's benefit.

"The effrontery of this piece of work is equalled only by the contempt it shows for our race.

"We conceive it to be the meanest, most wanton insult to Irish manhood ever attempted since the time of the 'soupers.' Then the poor father was led to the house of recantation to obtain soup to keep his children from starving to death. Blaine and Harrison call upon us to renounce our political principles in order to keep Patrick Egan in a fat office, and Ford, Kirwin & Co. in fat contracts and pickings. What do they take us for?

Shake, and Let Us Congratulate Each Other.

We are to be congratulated for having so reliable a patronage; you are to be congratulated for having a house to deal with that misrepresents nothing, and whose sole aim is to see that its patrons get just what they want. In dealing with us it makes no difference to you whether you are competent to judge value or not. Put yourself in our hands, and our word for it, you will not regret it.

Our line of goods just now is really the best we ever carried. The outlet we have gives us opportunities to buy the very best goods at prices that smaller houses have to pay for much inferior qualities. Those who have been in our house in the past thirty days know that we speak the truth when we tell you that quite frequently we are so crowded with customers that we can hardly wait on all. Our line of goods, and the prices we sell them for do the business.

Our Fall Line of Cheviot Suits, in Twenty Different Colors, made up in the newest styles, equal anything shown in this market. They can't be told from Custom-made garments, and really are every bit as good. We already have received our second importation of CHILDREN'S SUITS, and they are beauties. We want every boy's mother to look at them before they buy Children's Wear. For OVERCOATS, ULSTERS and STORM COATS we are headquarters. With us you will find every imaginable style of Overcoat you may want.

The Germantown Single X Democratic Club held a meeting last night under very bright and favorable auspices. The soliciting committees reported seventy new names enrolled since the organization of the club last Monday night, making a total membership now of 125. The club is arranging for a grand rally at that place one night next week, and will keep the ball rolling constantly until the culmination in a grand victory at the polls November 8th.

"Judge Fryer."

The Maysville Ledger boasts that Judge J. H. Fryer, of Butler, has decided to vote with the Republicans. A DYING INDIAN'S STORY.

How Sir John Franklin Was Left to Perish in the Ice North.

WINNIPEG, Man., Oct. 28.—The Rev. E. R. Young, a Methodist missionary in the far north for many years, states that he was sent for by an aged dying Indian some time ago who confessed before his death that he accompanied one of the Sir John Franklin relief expeditions to the northern seas. Supplies became very low and there was danger of starvation. Before deciding to return the commander sent this Indian and another across an island to look on the other side.

They crossed and discovered in the distance three masts rising out of the ice. They were nearly exhausted, and knowing that if they told the commander of their discovery he would go to the place, they decided that it would be better not to tell him, for they feared starvation of the entire party in the event of delay. Accordingly they returned and reported having found nothing. The next day the expedition started on its return. The Indians were certain the masts belonged to one of Franklin's vessels.

RECORD BEATERS.

Some Very Fast Time Being Made on Kite-Shaped Tracks.

STOCKTON, Cal., Oct. 28.—A sharp, cool breeze blew athwart the stretch of the kite-shaped track at 12:15 o'clock yesterday when Stamboul was started again the world's stallion record. Maben drove the racer.

From the first bound the great stallion went at a winning gait. The first pole was made in the great time of 30 1-4, the half in the equally remarkable time of 1:01 1-2. He went without a skip to the wire in 2:08 1-2, lowering Palo Alto's record by a quarter of a second and his own record by two and a half seconds.

Nancy Hanks Tries It Again.

SEDALIA, Mo., Oct. 28.—Nancy Hanks, with Budd Doble in the sulky, went against her record of 2:04 on Sedalia's kite-shaped track yesterday afternoon but the best she could do was 2:06 1-2. A stiff wind was blowing down the stretch and it was too cold for record breaking.

DEATH IN A CAISSON.

Three Men Smothered to Death by an Incompetent Pump Tender.

ST. LOUIS, Oct. 28.—Last evening three laborers were sent down into a caisson, seventy feet below the surface of the river, at the Chicago, Burlington and Quincy bridge, which is being built over the Missouri river beyond Baden, in North St. Louis.

The men finding the fresh air becoming exhausted, signalled for a fresh supply, which came promptly, but the pump tender not understanding the signal to cut off the supply of the air pressure in the caisson smothered the three men to death. Their bodies had to be taken out by the aid of pulleys. Their names were not learned.

Negro Murderer Confesses.

SEDALIA, Mo., Oct. 28.—The negro, Dick Robinson, who was arrested on suspicion of murdering Johanna Schollman, and who was removed to California jail to prevent lynching, made a full confession last night. The Annie plied between Liverpool and towns on the lough, and was upset by a sudden storm in the shallow waters. The crew made a vain effort to save themselves but were drowned before help could reach them.

Great Destruction Done by Storms.

ST. JOHN'S, N. F., Oct. 28.—Details arriving daily show that the gale which raged along the coast recently was very severe. The only cause assigned for her act is despondency.

When brought before Judge Wilson he pleaded guilty and was sentenced to five years in the penitentiary. The crime, arrest, indictment, plea of guilty and sentence all occurred within nine hours. Boyer was at once taken to the penitentiary, where he ate his supper twelve hours after the commission of his crime. This is the greatest record ever made by Hamilton county courts.

Bank Doors Closed Up.

It is stated that the liabilities are $80,000, but it is believed that this amount is secured by bonds and sureties. The president has turned over all his real and personal property and claims that the bank will be able to pay all its indebtedness.

The Czar Offended.

PARIS, Oct. 28.—It is reported here that the czar was deeply offended by Emperor Franz Joseph's decision at the last moment not to meet him at Skiernevice. Emperor Franz Joseph is said to have sent a despatch to the czar saying that owing to Emperor William's visit in Vienna he felt that he could not come.
